Deaths, 1850-1900

These are deaths taken from Plymouth Vital Records for period 1850-1900, although there are a few prior to that date. These were apparently copied by the same person from the original records into the present book.

We have tried to keep the spelling of the cause of death as given in the book. No doubt, we have inadvertently corrected some in the typing. No attempt has been made to correct errors in the text as when a person is given as married who is known to have been single, etc.

We have made no attempt to list sex of each person in a separate place but instead refer to daughter or to son except where no sex is given, in which place the word child is used. All persons listed are white except as otherwise noted.

The information is generally given in the following order:

Number of entry for indexing purposes
Name
Date of death
Place of death
Age
Place of birth
Marital status
Occupation
Name of father
Father's occupation
Birthplace of father
Name of mother
Birthplace of mother
Cause of death
Person reporting death

Names of persons are listed in alphabetical order, roughly by year. Since these are approximately alphabetized, no separate index has been prepared.

An index has been prepared for fathers' names and for mothers' maiden names.
